

Mr. Michael Lunsford

Michael Lunsford was born, raised and grew up in Lafayette, Louisiana. His father, Larry Lunsford, served as his inspiration. He was well respected in the community for broadcast and radio journalism in the 1980s.

He has been happily married for twenty-six years to his wife Michelle. Together, they have two wonderful boys. Mr. Lunsford is very active in his community and takes part in the Sons of the American Revolution and Boy Scouts.

Mr. Lunsford has been an avid computer enthusiast and programmer since he was 13. His work in the computer and web development industries crossed many lines including technology solutions consulting, networking design and implementation, front and back-end programming and SQL database integration work. Recently, his work involved closing the communication gap between computer engineers and business people.
